Headteacher Update

An abundance of thanks today!

Wow wow wow! What an incredible few days we've had in Hob Moor Oaks! We are so proud of all the children, the performances have been sensational! The children have risen to the challenge in so many ways!

Thank you to all the class teams who have made costumes, props, dances and scenery; to staff who have given time on their days off to help; to Hayley and Ian for their narration and to James for his fabulous sound and visual effects! All your contributions have enabled our pupils to shine and for proud parents to enjoy the show!

Thank you to parents and carers for your lovely feedback both verbally and on the care diary, we love to listen to your messages.

Thank you for your cooperation and understanding regarding the planned strike action next week (Wednesday 1st Feb). Please ensure you have read all correspondence regarding this via Parent Hub. Transport providers have been informed.

The first Makaton level 1 parents training was a success! We look forward to sharing the next date for summer term soon. Thank you to Shona for leading this session.

Have a wonderful weekend, I am sure the staff will all sleep well this evening! It's been a week filled with pride and excitement!

Twigs

Twigs have had a busy return to school after Christmas beginning with the excitement of the panto, closely followed by the creation and practise of our upcoming show, The Scarecrow's Wedding.

We have been putting lots of work into our colour tents to support our visual development and object recognition including experimenting with different colours to find our individual favourites.

In physical development, we have used the trampoline in rebound to strengthen our core muscles and as a means to relax some of those stubborn muscles. There have been lots of smiles as everyone seems to enjoy the trampoline.

We are looking forward to seeing parents and carers this week at our show.

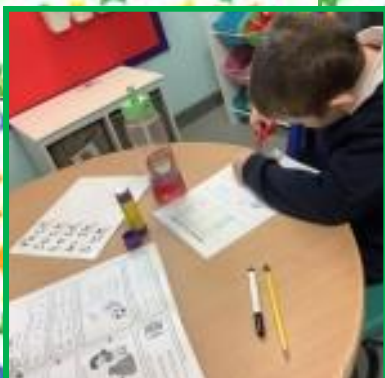

Hob Moor Oaks Heroes of the Week

Happy Birthday this week to:
Theo & Rowan

The children and staff of Hob Moor Oaks!

Becky Thompson, hairdresser, is available to come into school on Friday 24th February and Friday 31st March. Please update the care diary to inform class teams if you have arranged a haircut. Contact Becky on 07793432898
